KeepingItOneHundredEverydayGreat conversation starters for Couples! it was very fun to do. We had to pace ourselves so we didnt do them all in 1 day.

Here are 100 questions to see what you know and what you don't. It may be a humbling experience, but you're sure to have fun--and find out a whole lot about the man you married.Examples:-- Your husband has used a dictionary in the past seven days-true or false?-- How does your husband generally go to sleep? --On his back --On his stomach --On his left side --On his right side-- Does your husband know your dress size?-- Name your husband's regular barber. (If he plays the field, where did he go most recently? If he has no hair, smile.)

About the AuthorDan Carlinsky is a writer and literary agent. All rights reserved.Think you know all about the man on the other side of the dinner table? Well, maybe. Let this little book be the judge.The fact is, no matter how long you've been together, there's probably plenty you don't know about the man in your life. If the two of you are like most couples, you probably talk more about the neighbors and the news than about yourselves. The result: an information gap.Counselors say that knowing about your partner's past and preferences can be important-even things like "Who was his best friend in grade school?" and "Does he hate squash?" Knowing, they say-even knowing such bits of trivia-is a sign of caring.Now, that's not to say that if you and he are on the verge of a split, knowing his shoe size will save your relationship. But, as the lady said as she offered chicken soup to the dying man, "It couldn't hurt!"So grab a pencil and show what you know. The answers, of course, are not in the book; only he can say. So after you've completed the test, ask him to check your answers and figure your score.The test has 100 questions. Count ten points for each correct answer. Where you miss some of a multi-part question, divide and take partial credit; you'll need all the help you can get. Here's how to rate yourself: Above 900: Very impressive. In fact, downright amazing.700-900: Pretty good, but you might want to work a little to polish off your knowledge. Start asking questions...and pay attention.Below 700: Weak. Ask him to give you a remedial course.Take the "Do You Know Your Husband?" test. You may find you have something to brag about, or you may be humbled. Either way, just by going over your answers together, you'll learn a little and have some fun as well. Good luck.-D.C.1. For starters, will he take this test: ___ Eagerly? ___ Indifferently? ___ Kicking and screaming?2. Does he have his tonsils? ___ Yes ___ No3. What does he generally do with junk mail? ___ Throw it away without opening it ___ Skim it, just in case ___ Read it carefully no matter what4. What's his boss's wife's first name?5. If you died tomorrow, how soon would he want to get into another relationship? ___ Right away ___ In a while ___ Never
