wonderful time, laughing until i fell over sideways.although there are different authors names on the stories, anyone who knows me knows i am a frothing-at-the -mouth tom edwards fan, and i recognize his writing style and found him on every page, sometimes under the porch, scribbling and muttering, sometimes leaping to the fore, singing at the top of his lungs. delightful, every word.buy this book. buy it, no matter what it costs. it's priceless...and speaking of priceless, mr edwards has written "blue jesus" which is another absolute must have at all costs. do it. do it. doodly do it!!!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. WaiteThere aren't many "good reads" out there for busy parents who want to start a book like this and not have to put it down! How many books have you read lately that make you laugh out loud, cry, and want to shout "horray!" all at one time? The stories obviously come deep from the souls of these once campers! For parents wondering if they should send their kids to camp, I hope this book reveals to them how precious a gift the camping experience is. I can't think of another place where you can have the independence and the chance to be successful. You just can't fail at camp! You can only be assured that life is going to throw you some curves, and at camp, you can figure out, with a little help from your friends, how to get through it. And usually with good humor as told in these wonderful stories! It's a "must read" for all ages! I also read CAMP, by Author Michael Eisner. I appreciated his experiences that he shared in his book as well, however, in Doodly Do It,the stories were much more entertaining! Thanks to all of the authors for sharing their stories and making me laugh out loud! I truly could not put it down!

Do you recall the day your parents cheerfully announced, "Honey, we've packed your bags. The station wagon's loaded. You're going to camp!" Now think back. Do you remember that sinking feeling in the pit of your stomach as you found yourself fighting back sobs in the Chrysler's exhaust fumes? "What if no one likes me?" Then something magical happened. Maybe it was the early morning swim lessons when we thrust our chubby bodies into the frigid waters of the lake. Maybe it was our first overnigher. Maybe the S'Mores. Whatever it was, at camp we made our own mistakes. No parents were allowed. We stumbled. We fell. And in the process we learned the skills necessary to rise to any occasion. DOODLY DO IT ! is a collection of quirky camp stories told with humor, edge, attitude, and inspiration. A celebration of the life lessons we learned at this great American cultural coming-of-age ritual we fondly call.CAMP.
