Wendy Wright : Dress Design for Doodlers before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Dress Design for Doodlers:

This is a fashion design colouring book suitable for children from about the age of eight, and adults. The first part consists of completed designs ready for colouring, followed by a second section of blank drawings to use for your own designs. Dividing the two sections are six pages of easy to follow ideas for your designs, should you wish to use them. This book is not only about colouring in, but also offers the opportunity to create your own designs, which can either be fairly basic or highly complex depending on age and inclination. Good quality pencil crayons are needed. Used with skill and imagination they are very effective, particularly for skin tones and make-up. Collage can also be used, or combined with coloured pencil. It is a good idea to keep a piece of scrap paper to test colours and effects before working on the design.
