Holly Crawford : Entropy Slices before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Entropy Slices:

Humor:A long narrative collaged poem from instructions about life from Adam and Eve, health insurance forms, your remote control from your television set, Nixon's instructions on why his daughters should not campaign at a museum, nuclear remote handling manual, instructions for events on a cruise ship and other texts. Runner up in many recognized poetry contests. The entire text was performed at the Lakeside Theatre, University of Essex in 2011.

About the Author Holly Crawford is an artist, poet and critic.
