Hilarious...this guy is TOO foolish, LOLBy Jasmine 904My oldest brother borrowed this book from the library years years ago when I was in elementary school, I read a little back then. Bruh, the letters about injecting ham, the haunted sponge, that store w/ a similar name to the barber shop beside it have me crying-laughing, LOL. He is too silly. Great, fun read

This was not as good as the first one, but it is still worth reading. If you have not read the first one, I recommend getting that one as well.

By Dawn Gordon-Luks
Ted L. Nancy, has done it again. I didn't think it was possible to come remotely close to the side splitting humor in the first two books, but he managed to do it for a third time. "Extra Nutty" had me in tears (from laughing) right from the start. As usual, I don't want to finish the book immediately, so I'm only reading a few pages a day. Ted, or Jerry (who I honestly believe is the "real" author) please, please do a "Nut" book every year!

Welcome to the world of Ted L. Nancy. Some have called him inspired, some have called him a goofball, and many have wondered who Ted really is. All we know is that Ted loves to write and it shows-Extra Nutty! is chock full of nut, a record of real live correspondence from America's favorite pen pal to a cross-section of this great nation. Extra Nutty! is bursting with all new letters showing Ted at his looniest. Take, for example, this: Dear Business Permits Dept.: I want to apply for a business permit in your fine city...I operate the Soup Sleep Restaurants. You can either order soup or sleep. A hostess will greet you and you would say, "I'd like to sleep." She will lead you to a table where you can catch a few winks. Or this: Dear Helena Ocean Dog Licensing Dept: I will stage the play "Mark Twain with Tourette's Syndrome." . . . Let me know what arrangements I need to make to store my anchovie tank at your seaport. Thank you. I await large crowds. Or even this: Dear Kmart: I have invented a male underpants liner...This liner fits right in your shorts and can be thrown away after 15 weeks. I have been wearing the same pair of underwear for 105 days now and although they feel a little stretchy they are perfectly clean. Ted's unique way of looking at the world-and how the world responds to Ted's schemes--is captured here in this extra nutty, hugely hilarious collection.

Dear MS. Ramey: Thank you very much for answering my letter concerning the haunted sponge I bought from a Ralphs store. Ralphs has been and always will be the only store I shop in for my food and sponge needs. In your letter to me you said that I would be hearing from the supplier of this songe. I have not heard from them. And this sponge is bad. Can someone from Ralphs come and get this sponge from me? This sponge is out to get me. I am afraid. After I got your letter I went down to my basement and locked that sponge in a steel box and put a chain around that box. Then I wrapped that box in tape and put a shackle around that. Then I boarded up the basement door with over 1000 nails. Then I put a manacle on that door. Then I went upstairs to my room to get a good nights sleep. At about 3 o'clock in the morning I woke up and looked down. That sponge was right by my bed. I am scared. Please help me. Also, do you sell Brillo at your store? When will I hear from the supplier? I need to know. Thank you for your reply. Sincerely, Ted L. Nancy
