When the fish just aren't biting and you're feeling sick from staring too long at the water, dip into this hearty and amusing collection of fishy quips and quotes and remind yourself that the fun of fishing isn't always in the catch "I fish better with a lit cigar; some people fish better with talent." —Nick Lyons "My best fishing memory is about some fish that I never caught." —George Orwell Whether a fisherman, an angler, or simply a fish-and-chips kind of person, it seems everyone has something to say about the noble sport of fishing—some of them are even truthful; which can't always be said for this breed of man (or woman!). Whether debating fisherman's questionable attire or proclaiming their love of all things fishy, this book is full of the wittiest and best quotations and is sure to leave you reeling for more.

'For when your flies are failing.' * The Field Magazine * About the Author Richard Benson is the author of Blackboard Blunders, F in Exams, The Wit and Wisdom of Margaret Thatcher, and a variety of other witty humor books.
