

A stocking filler if ever there was one, this little book contains remarkable coincidences, amazing facts, unusual feats, and interesting and mind-boggling statistics and stories from the world of soccer. In the style of pub-quiz trivia, both players and teams alike are included. Illustrated with unique cartoons drawn especially for the book by cartoonist "WAYNE" this is a book that will appeal to anyone who occasionally slips into a football anorak.

About the Author Tony Matthews is a former semi-professional footballer, sports master and, since 1975, has written over 100 books on football, covering 25+ clubs. He was the WBA statistician/historian for 30 years up to 2003. He is the previous author of The Who's Who of West Bromwich Albion and several other Who's Who-style publications.
