Fash'n Fun Club Inc : Fuzzy Zoeller - Have You Heard The One About ? . . . before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Fuzzy Zoeller - Have You Heard The One About ? . . . :

Golf humor book upscale oversized coffee table 9 x 12 fully illustrated by reowned sports cartoonist. The book written in collabration with PGA Tour Professional Fuzzy Zoeller contains stories and jokes submitted by the golfing public, duffers, caddies, professionals, and teachers. The fowards written by John Daly and Rush Limbaugh.

(wrote to the publisher requesting Fuzzy's autograph) "I have high regard for Fuzzy. I am wondering if you would ask him to sign this bookplate that I can then stick in the front of "Have You Heard The One About?..." Barbara and I have a collection of signed books and this one will make a nice addition to it" -- Former President, George Bush

I found it makes good bedside reading, and on more than one occasion I dropped off with one of the many amusing tales, out-and-out jokes, and delightful drawings are the last thing I remembered. I want the book to be a big success because in humorous ways it presents many examples of what is and what is not proper behavior on and off the golf course. There are lessons to be learned in its pages, and it is my hope golfers and would-be golfers everywhere look, laugh, and learn. -- The grand dame of golf - Patty Berg

In my 30+ years of sports cartooning and illustrating, I've never found a more perfect fit than in collaborating with Fuzzy Zoeller on this book. The ideas for the story illustrations practically leapt from the text. And while it's true that Fuzzy could have filled the entire book with his own jokes and stories, by soliciting input from the golfing public, he has effectually made all of the contributors "co-authors". This is their book...and believe me--it's unlike any golf humor book ever before published. -- Illustrator - Bill Maul

There are many things that appeal to me about the game of golf. Tradition, history, integrity and excellence immediately come to mind. However, having taken up the game a few years ago, I am finding that there is a huge body of golf folklore, stories and jokes that have accumulated and are told and retold in golf circles all over the world. I cannot think of a better-equipped person to present this unique publication to the golfing world than my friend, Fuzzy Zoeller. He is one of golf's premiere ambassadors. -- Rush Limbaugh

From the Publisher This bookstore buyer comment says all that we, the publisher, could ever hope for: "I am not an avid golfer, so I don't understand all the nuances presented in "Fuzzy Zoeller - Have You Heard The One About?..." No matter - the humor screams out and the illustrations explode from the pages, so that any stuffed shirt would love this (certainly different) book. That is why I bought it for our bookstore and it is selling far better than expected. Mark Yarnell Liberties Bookstores (So. Florida)

From the Author From Fuzzy Zoeller Welcome to the fun (and funny) side of golf! If you know me, then you can easily understand my love and appreciation of humor. Traveling the world during my 26 years of professional golf, I've heard scores of golf's witty one-liners and hilarious golf stories--and I might add, I've shared a few of my own in the process. My involvement in this collaboration with fans, caddies, pros, and duffers everywhere has been an enjoyable project to say the least. It is my belief that this will be a record of golf humor that will be considered as timeless as the game itself and enjoyed by generations of golf fans to come. We received contributions from fans across the country. Some old, some new, some true, some blue. Jokes were received from children as young as six, and on the other side of the spectrum you'll find a true story written by 91-year-old Hall-of-Famer, Paul Runyan, along with anecdotes from some of today's PGA pros. So read on and enjoy. More importantly--laugh! Remember, golf is a funny game--even with the occasional three-putt thrown in.
