Dea Lenihan : Garden Pup: A coloring book of fun! before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Garden Pup: A coloring book of fun!:

Color GARDEN PUP as he romps through flowers, frightens frogs and bunnies, and finally wears himself out. Each of GARDEN PUP'S images is an original picture with no repeat patterns. Each image appears TWICE so you can have two times the fun coloring...or maybe share! Enough white space allows for easy coloring or room for extra details for the art savvy. Have fun! Garden Pup is waiting! My books are produced by Createspace, and are printed on the only white paper they have available. Although the images are one sided, if you color with markers it may bleed though, so I recommend using a sheet behind as you color. My books contain between 12 and 15 images per book, and each image is featured TWICE. I price them so they are accessible to most. Each image is an original idea, and can be colored to look very painterly and interesting. I hope you enjoy them!

About the Author Dea Lenihan is obsessed with art, literature, and pens. While on a train ride to Florida she met three published authors and decided it was time to dust off her notebooks and get to work on her writing. Now her life is filled with Word documents, sketches, and lots of iced tea. Dea's art was recently featured at The Eric Carle Museum of Storybook Art. Previously a makeup artist for Sony Studios, she happily traded in her 9-to-5 gig for a rewarding career as an artist, designer, and author. The best part: working from her home office, she gets to spend her days dreaming of her next story as she watches the waves crash.
