Jim Davis : Garfield Potbelly of Gold: His 50th Book before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Garfield Potbelly of Gold: His 50th Book:

Eslinger I purchased this book for my then 12 year old son. He read it in one sitting and loved it. I used to collect Garfield books and though I have mostly outgrown them, I still enjoyed sitting down with this book and reading it. The holographic cover is an especially nice and creative touch. For good, clean, pre-teen humor this book would meet any parent's approval and definitely tickled my son's funny bone. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. The milestone 50th GARFIELD compilation book! The fat cat returns for his 50th book—a brand-new collection of hilarious strips, featuring Jon, Odie, and all the famous characters in the world of the one-and-only Garfield.

About the Author Jim Davis was born on July 28, 1945, in Marion, Indiana. He later attended Ball State University in Muncie, Indiana, where he distinguished himself by earning one of the lowest cumulative grade point averages in the history of the university. (Incidentally, a fellow classmate named David Letterman earned the other). The Garfield strip was born on June 19, 1978, syndicated in forty-one U.S. newspapers. Today it's syndicated in more than 2,100 newspapers worldwide with more than 200 million readers, leading Guinness World Records to name Garfield The Most Widely Syndicated Comic Strip in the World. Davis has had many successes with Garfield, including four Emmy Awards for Outstanding Animated Program and induction into the Licensing Hall of Fame (1998), but his most prized awards are from his peers in the National Cartoonist Society: Best Humor Strip (1981 and 1985), the Elzie Segar Award (1990), and the coveted Reuben Award (1990) for overall excellence in cartooning.
