Jim Davis : Garfield's Guide to Everything before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Garfield's Guide to Everything:

Not just a kid/teen book. :-)By Nicola D.Bought this for our 13 year old,...but then he left it in the bathroom with the magazines one day,...now everybody has read it, bit by bit. Hahaha! It's rather interesting I must say. 'Garfield' even talks about Trump in this book, and this book was done before Trump ran for President. Haha (No,...I'm not going to tell you if what he says about him is good, bad or funny,...buy this book and find out for yourself. ;-) Tons of other neat subjects that are touched on too.) The reading level/desire is more from pre-teen to adults.2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Good clean laugh for adults as well as grand children!By Tammy H.My granddaughter is enjoying her new Garfield book!1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. He was always reading his dad's hand me down Garfield books from when he was a kid and we thought this would be a good additionBy CustomerWe bought this book for our almost 10 year old and he loves it. He was always reading his dad's hand me down Garfield books from when he was a kid and we thought this would be a good addition to the collection and it certainly was. We gave it as a gift along with the Garfield The Movie.

In Garfield's Guide to Everything, the philosophizing fat cat weighs in on a whole kit and caboodle of subjects, from ecology to astrology, Shakespeare to stupidity. Sleep — “The best 18 hours of my day”Coffee — “Mother Nature's Jumper Cables”Dogs — “They contain 90% of the world's drool supply.”Love — “...is splitting the last piece of pizza."Exercise — "My favorite spectator sport."Mondays — "The armpit of days."Golf — "That's Scottish for 'AAARGH!'."

He later attended Ball State University in Muncie, Indiana, where he distinguished himself by earning one of the lowest cumulative grade point averages in the history of the university. (Incidentally, a fellow classmate named David Letterman earned the other). The Garfield strip was born on June 19, 1978, syndicated in forty-one U.S. newspapers. Today it's syndicated in more than 2,100 newspapers worldwide with more than 200 million readers, leading Guinness World Records to name Garfield The Most Widely Syndicated Comic Strip in the World. Davis has had many successes with Garfield, including four Emmy Awards for Outstanding Animated Program and induction into the Licensing Hall of Fame (1998), but his most prized awards are from his peers in the National Cartoonist Society: Best Humor Strip (1981 and 1985), the Elzie Segar Award (1990), and the coveted Reuben Award (1990) for overall excellence in cartooning.
