Jim Davis : Garfield Sings for His Supper: His 55th Book before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Garfield Sings for His Supper: His 55th Book:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. It's a book. By Judy Scroggs It is what it is! 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. 5 stars By Nathan Venturini Good book 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Funny, funny, funny By jackie Who doesn't like comics? I've grown up with Garfield still love him. (Just waiting to see how old this cat gets before Jim Davis retires him) Still funny with the spider, Odie all his friends. A great read if you need a good laugh.

GARFIELD'S GOT TALENT The famous fat cat with the awesome appetite sings for his supper, dances for his dessert, and acts for his snacks in this all-new collection of hilarious daily and Sunday comics. On with the show!

About the Author Jim Davis was born on July 28, 1945, in Marion, Indiana. He later attended Ball State University in Muncie, Indiana, where he distinguished himself by earning one of the lowest cumulative grade point averages in the history of the university. (Incidentally, a fellow classmate named David Letterman earned the other). The Garfield strip was born on June 19, 1978, syndicated in forty-one U.S. newspapers. Today it's syndicated in more than 2,100 newspapers worldwide with more than 200 million readers, leading Guinness World Records to name Garfield The Most Widely Syndicated Comic Strip in the World. Davis has had many successes with Garfield, including four Emmy Awards for Outstanding Animated Program and induction into the Licensing Hall of Fame (1998), but his most prized awards are from his peers in the National Cartoonist Society: Best Humor Strip (1981 and 1985), the Elzie Segar Award (1990), and the coveted Reuben Award (1990) for overall excellence in cartooning.
