Hama Tuma : Give Me a Dog's Life Any Day: African Absurdities II before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Give Me a Dog's Life Any Day: African Absurdities II:

You want to get even at the pompous politicians of all sorts who have made the lives of ordinary people miserable? This books places dictators on the receiving end - for once...

About the Author Hama Tuma was born in Addis Abeba, Ethiopia, in 1949. A conscience that refused to sleep made him a militant for democracy and justice and made sure he would have a troubled life. Three governments in Ethiopia have banned him and inadvertently helped him to sharpen his satirical pen. A novelist and a poet, Hama Tuma has written (in English) The Case of the Socialist Witchdoctor and Other Stories (Heinemann 1993), Of Spades and Ethiopians and Eating an American (poetry collections) and other books in his own language. Hama Tuma has traveled extensively though he is now "based" in Paris where he lives with his wife and a daughter.
