Garrison Keillor : Guy Noir: Radio Private Eye before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Guy Noir: Radio Private Eye:

Grammy Award nominee! It's a dark night in a city that knows how to keep its secrets, but high above the mean streets, a light burns on the 12th floor of the Acme Building, where Guy Noir—hard-boiled, world-weary, yet surprisingly articulate—is trying to find the answers to life's questions. In his big swivel chair under the bare bulb beside the beat-up gray file cabinet, he awaits the call of his clientele: the disappointed, the paranoid, the embittered, the rejected—and the hilarious.
