However, I discovered that many of the drawings are a bit more on the gory side than I like. Whereas I can appreciate gory scenes in a Halloween movie I don't like the idea of focusing on severed body parts, skulls, ghoulish faces while coloring. Not all the pages are like that but enough are that I will donate the book. I suggest really looking at the preview pages to see if this is what you want. If so, great. I think that I will try her mandalas coloring book. I do like Simi's drawing style, just not some of the subject matter in this particular book.0 of Unique, highly detailed Halloween designs to please the colourist who loves detailsBy LadyRThis is a lovely colouring book with very intricate designs perfect for the adult colourists who love details. There are 43 single sided pages to colour including a name page. There is also a colour test page in the front, which comes in handy when you want to check for bleed through or picking colours. The book is published by Createspace so it has the usual Createspace medium weight paper, markers will bleed through, so I suggest putting a couple of sheets of paper or a board between them. The designs are hand drawn, unique and everything Halloween, from bats to cats, witches, mummies, spiders, pumpkins, trick or treaters, skulls, owls the list goes on. There's even a Halloween Countdown Calendar! just colour your page and use sticky notes for the days to count down. Simi is a very talented artist, the designs are unlike those you've seen before which is something I love, definately not something you'll find repeated in other books. If you're looking for something unique, detailed and fun this is the book for you. I have a digital copy of the book, below is a picture of my countdown calendar done in gel pens
