

(Free and download) Historical Cats

Historical Cats

Norton

*ePub | DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF

DOWNLOAD

READ ONLINE

#2812324 in Books 1996-10-15 1996-10-15 Original language: English PDF # 1 7.40 x .60 x 4.80l, #File Name: 044991082286 pages | File size: 23.Mb

Norton : Historical Cats before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Historical Cats:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. LOVE THAT NORTON!!! By Pam H. I love Norton!!!! This is a whimsical look at the GREAT cats behind some of the great historical people of recorded history. Norton brings his literary talent to the fore in this book by describing the cats who made these historical figures what they are today. Norton's comments, as told to his personal wait staff Peter Gethers, Peter's writing partner Norman Stiles, are funny and tell us who these people really were. It's whimsically Illustrated by William Branhall and well worth having. I HIGHLY RECOMMEND IT!!!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy Ms.FirebirdLove this book, Do get it if you love cats! Came within a few days in perfect condition!1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. SPLENDID ADDITION TO WORLD HISTORY!By D. G. EvansTHE BOOK GIVES SO MANY SMILES AND INSIGHTS TO ALL HUMANS WHO ARE PROUDLY OWNED BY THEIR CATS! OUR LOVELY, INTELLIGENT SIAMESE HAS GIVEN HIS SEAL OF APPROVAL (RUBBED THE BOOK WITH HIS FURRY LITTLE CHEEKS), ANNOINTING IT AS PART OF OUR FAMILY BOOKSHELVES, WITH EXTRA COPIES TO GIVE AS GIFTS.BY THE WAY, BE SURE TO READ PETER GETHERS TRILOGY ON HIS CAT NORTON. IT IS HEART WARMING.

It has long been suspected that behind every great human is an even greater cat. Now the truth will out, as meticulously documented by that great feline historian, Norton--aka, The Cat Who Went to Paris--and his cohorts, Peter Gethers and Norman Stiles.The world knows all about Nathan Hale. But where are the tributes to Nathan Hale's cat, who uttered the immortal words, "I regret that I have but nine lives to give for my country"? Where are the biographies of Sigmund Freud's cat, who changed the twentieth century with his discover that the primary motivating factor behind all behavior is the urge to rub up against furniture? Why do historians shy away from Marie Antoinette's cat, who actually caused the French Revolution with her dismissive bon mot, "Let them eat dry food"? This extraordinary and important book is already receiving advance raves. No less an observer of feline nature than Oprah Winfrey's cat has gone on record as saying, "Every man and woman who cares about the future of the planet must buy Historical Cats. Hey, where are you going with that bowl?! I'm still hungry!!"

From the PublisherNorton the Cat and his human friends, Peter Gethers and Norman Stiles, have compiled the purrfect book (illustrations by William Bramhall) of the power behind their masters -- their cat. From Eva Peron's, Felita, to Moses's Cat who carried down the 11 commandments -- the 11th being "thou shall not eat the same food two days in a row." This book is humorous and eye opening. A great book for the cat lover in all of us. -- Louis Mendez, editorialFrom the Inside FlapIt has long been suspected that behind every great human is an even greater cat. Now the truth will out, as meticulously documented by that great feline historian, Norton--aka, The Cat Who Went to Paris--and his cohorts, Peter Gethers and Norman Stiles.The world knows all about Nathan Hale. But where are the tributes to Nathan Hale's cat, who uttered the immortal words, "I regret that I have but nine lives to give for my country"? Where are the biographies of Sigmund Freud's cat, who changed the twentieth century with his discover that the primary motivating factor behind all behavior is the urge to rub up against furniture? Why do historians shy away from Marie Antoinette's cat, who actually caused the French Revolution with her dismissive bon mot, "Let them eat dry food"? This extraordinary and important book is already receiving advance raves. No less an observer of feline nature than Oprah Winfrey's cat has gone on record as saying, "Every man and woman who cares about the future of the planet must buy Historical Cats. Hey, where are you going with that bowl?! I'm still hungry!!"About the AuthorNorton is the star of the bestselling The Cat Who Went to Paris and A Cat Abroad. Peter Gethers is his Boswell, as well as a novelist and screenwriter. Norman Stiles is the eleven-time Emmy-winning head writer of Sesame Street. Artist William Bramhall lives catless in Fairfield, Connecticut.