Everyone knows the phrase "A man's home is his castle." Does that statement ring true even if: You removed your bathroom door so you could watch TV from the commode? The directions to your house include 'turn off the paved road'? You spray painted your dead shrubbery green? Any redneck will tell you that, of course, it is true. So whether you live in a double wide or have hit the big time with a ranch with one and a half baths, Redneck Extreme Mobile Home Makeover will make you laugh at the way some of us, I mean, some of you live such as: You Might Be A Redneck if You flush the toilet and the dog thinks you're giving him fresh water. Your front yard is on more than one prayer list. Your living room sofa came out of a Chevrolet. You have a bug light inside your house. Your best china traces the career of Loretta Lynn

About the Author Jeff Foxworthy is a New York Times best-selling author and one of the most respected and successful comedians in the country. He is the largest-selling comedy-recording artist in history and is the star and executive producer of the television series Blue Collar TV, which he created for the WB network. His Blue Collar Comedy Tour DVDs have sold more than 5.5 million copies. David Boyd is a cartoonist, the job reserved for opinionated people who can't write but have a better than average ability to doodle. His daft pen and keen wit leave no sacred cow standing as he comments about Jeff Foxworthy's rednecks and their glorious lack of sophistication.
