encountered bumps and sometimes even canyons on the journey... The secret is to share the Road with family and friends who love us where we are on the way to where we're going...0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Never a Let DownBy RuthI have liked Chonda Pierce for many years and enjoy going to her concerts. Her books are written as if she is sitting right there with you. Her openness and her honesty as to how life happens is so on point. She suffers, cries, laughs, and has hopes just like you and me. She however, has a close relationship with God that helps us the readers to search for the same type of relationship with God. I think everyone should read her books, especiall the Laughing in the Dark a story of how she beat depression.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Just What I NeededBy MaryIt fit right into my life at the moment. I would recommend this book to my sisters and anyone else with a job and family they are trying to lead in the paths of righteousness.

When life's left you flatter than a steamrolled possum, turn here for a little hope, humor, honesty, and encouragement from the Bible. It's the best of Chonda Pierce's celebrated Roadkill Reports to her fans, plus lots of new material, and it's perfect for reinflating your outlook?anytime, anywhere! [Postcard from Chonda] I tell jokes for a living. It's adventurous. But to do that, I have to fly for hours. I have to take a bus for days. I have to walk up steep stairs in skinny heels. In short, I sometimes take a beating like roadkill on a country highway! Life really is one long journey to heaven. My travel journal is filled with what I've learned along the way?the hurts, the laughter, the victories, the failings, the crowds and the loneliness, and mostly, the times I've seen God at work. ?Chonda
