John L. Leone : Sharklock Bones: Lobster Tails (Sharklock Bones Fish Detective) (Volume 9) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Sharklock Bones: Lobster Tails (Sharklock Bones Fish Detective) (Volume 9):

"Sharklock Bones: Lobster Tails" is the ninth book in the ongoing series "Sharklock Bones Fish Detective". It follows the adventures and mis-adventures of a talking shark and his trusty sidekick, Dr. Flotsam as they travel the seas trying to solve different mysteries. The stories, or "tails" are told in a series of puns, wordplays and jokes. All are told in screenplay fashion to encourage interaction among the readers.

About the AuthorJohn Leone started writing his "Sharklock Bones Fish Detective" series in 2011 for his grandson. There are presently nine books in this series. He has written more than a few short stories and has two poems published. One of his stories is featured in the 187th Assault Helicopter's website and is about their traveling to VietNam. One of his poems has been published in "Beyond the Mystical".
