Bill Peschel : Sherlock Holmes Edwardian Parodies and Pastiches II: 1905-1909 (223B Casebook Series) (Volume 3) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Sherlock Holmes Edwardian Parodies and Pastiches II: 1905-1909 (223B Casebook Series) (Volume 3):

Welcome to 223B Baker Street The debut of Sherlock Holmes in the pages of "The Strand" introduced one of fictions most memorable heroes. Arthur Conan Doyles spellbinding tales of mystery and detection and Holmes deep friendship with Dr. Watson touched the hearts of fans worldwide, inspiring imitations, parodies, songs, art, even erotica, that continue to be produced and avidly enjoyed today. "Sherlock Holmes Edwardian Parodies and Pastiches II: 1905-1909" collects 40 pieces published during the middle phase of Conan Doyles life. Some were written by schoolboys, reporters, doctors, and other amateurs, and vary widely in quality, but many professional writers turned out stories, such as Banjo Paterson, Max Beerbohm, Lincoln Steffens, Jacques Futrelle, Maurice Leblanc, and Charlie Chan creator Earl Derr Biggers. Weve also included the stories original art and over 270 footnotes identifying obscure words, historical figures, and events that readers were familiar with then but are forgotten today. Peschel Press 223B Casebook Series named because theyre next door to the original stories is dedicated to publishing the fanfiction created by amateur and professional writers during Conan Doyles lifetime.

About the Author Bill Peschel is a recovering journalist who shares a Pulitzer Prize with the staff of The Patriot-News in Harrisburg, Pa. He also is a mystery fan who runs the Wimsey Annotations at Planetpeschel.com. The author of Writers Gone Wild (Penguin), he publishes through Peschel Press the 223B Casebook Series of Sherlockian parodies and pastiches and annotated editions of Dorothy L. Sayers Whose Body? and Agatha Christies The Mysterious Affair at Styles and The Secret Adversary. An interest in Victorian crime led to the republication of three books on the William Palmer poisoning case. Peschel was born in Warren, Ohio, grew up in Charlotte, N.C., and graduated from the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill. He lives with his family and animal menagerie in Hershey, where the air really does smell like chocolate.
