Dan Wolinsky : Sines of the Bizarre Too: word play brain games with puns homonyms (Volume 2) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Sines of the Bizarre Too: word play brain games with puns homonyms (Volume 2):

Like its predecessor publication, SINES TOO is a book of challenging amusing word play brain games built around homonyms puns. Matchmaker Game - Arrange a marriage between signs containing puns homonyms and their possible interpretations. Sign Detective Game - With information provided at the scene of the sign, solve each case built around a homonym or pun. Brain Brakes - Let's you enjoy puns homonyms in various formats, real fictional outside of the games.

About the Author Dan Wolinsky is a retired university professor and author of three books on business subjects. For many years after retiring he managed a daytime learning program for adults. Dan is married and lives in Newtown, CT. This is his second book in the "Sines" series.
